GRAND

Lace and White Goods House!

This Will Interest You!

We offer in every Department goods at prices that are far below all competition, and while we do not believe in deceiving the people, and giving them LOW PRICES FOR A FEW DAYS IN EVERY SIX MONTHS, we do propose to make just as low prices every day in the year as we could if we advertised twice a year a GRAND CLEARANCE SALE, and we shall from time to time, through the papers, notify the people by giving them prices in all our Departments, in which we will have no competition.

WE HAVE COME TO STAY!

itors have given us only THREE MONTHS! WE THANK THEM FOR THAT! At the expiration of three months, we shall notify our friends how much longer we shall remain. Our money buys as many goods as anybody's. Our Buyer, who will remain in the market, will always have an EYE OPEN FOR BARGAINS AND BANKRUPT STOCKS; will buy only Choice Goods, and we will give one and all the benefit of our purchases.

IN OUR COTTON GOODS DEPARTMENT,

Our discounts pay our expenses of selling. IT IS NO TRICK to sell you Cotton Goods thirty days out of the year at COST, and charge you a profit the remainder of the time. We propose to make the same prices the year around. YOU WILL APPRECIATE IT, WE ARE SATISFIED. In all Departments, get our prices; you will be satisfied. Cheerfulness may be inherent, but it can also be cultivated, and to that extent we hould regard it as a virtue. It is very nuch the result of contentment; to no great degree do outward circumstances de termine the cheerfulness or the sadness of men. The rich may be sad and the poor cheerful; the fortunate may be gloomy, and the unfortunate full of hope; the sick may be full of the spirit of joy, and the strong wrapped in morbid gloom.

Some people seem to be always cheerful.

They scatter sunshine; it is a pleasure to be near them. It is not necessarily the buoyancy of youth, for often old people are cheerful to an extent that almost makes it contagious. They are satisfied with the world as they find it; they do not cross their bridges until they come to them; they consider to-day's load enough for them to carry, and will not lug vesterday's load around unless it isn't to be helped. Cheerfulness ought to be placed among the cardinal virtues, and its cultivation made a duty. We are bound to make the oderately sumptious vestments, and most of our faculties and opportunities, and we cannot do so when we give way to mel-ancholy moods. There is nothing that has how they exist the rest of the year, how their upper stories are furnished or their larders provided. Mrs. Grundy becomes their upper stories are furnished or their larders provided. Mrs. Grundy becomes their patron, their pride is appeased and they are ostensibly happy.

I think this is altogether wrong, and that it mides are steered and they are ostensibly happy. it evidences a reckless disregard of truth increased by good spirits. There is no such tonic as happiness." Here we have an undisputed reason why cheerfulness should be cultivated, and cultivated as the distinct means of vastly improving other owers of the mind. It has been conceded that every form of healthy mental occupation brings to the mind joy rather than gloom or sorrow. It is not those persons who think most, nor those who are most keenly alive to the sorows and misfortunes that befall mankind. that are overcome by sadness, but comnonly the minds that nurse trouble and inwittingly encourage melancholy emoons. The weakness may be inherent, but t is not the less evident that instead of cult ivating cheerfulness they have cultivated isease,-[Philadelphia Call.

A QUESTION OF CHARITY. "Good churches make good ministers," said a distinguished clergyman recently. Possibly; but it is certain that they do not always make the old age of a servant of the church, who has been for years faithful to it, secure against want in his latter days Here is the Chicago Current telling a most of the Methodist Church living near that city, but living upon the very verge of absolute starvation. This man served the was a valiant soldier, and never faltered in the ranks. He preferred, according to our contemporary, neither his ease nor his personal advancement. He sought the hard roads. His income during those forty-three years of toil, devotion and selfsacrifice was never more than $350 a year, and frequently as low as $100. He could lay up nothing for inactive old age. When he heard he had been relegated to the ranks of the superannuated it is said he fainted It meant absolute poverty. We have no idea how the Methodist Church in Illinois proposes to respond to this case. It is a rich church. It pays some of its clergy large salaries. It supports costly structures. and provides some elegant parsonages. It has money to invest in publishing schemes and more to send to the heathen in far-off lands. But it maintains a system that pre vents the acquisition of homes by its clergy, and for this very season it should provide so liberally for its ministers that they may be made independent of charity when the cold days come. Methodists are excellengivers, the laity contribute in a spirit and with open-handedness not often rivaled, but the application of their benefactions does not always result as superannuates have a right to expect. Now, our contemporary is a reliable informant, and here stands its charge, that one is starving who for forty-three years was a consoler of the afflicted; whose life was a pattern of the virtues; whose labors were all for a cause in which he devoutly believed. For forty-three years he rallied recruits to the ranks of the church that leaves him to starve. For forty-three years he lived upon a pittance to serve his religion, and now it denies him the crust of the charity that for forty-three years he preached as its chief virtue. What is there in such a case to encourage devotion to the church. Had this man gone to the ways of the sinful, he could scarcely have fared worse-nay, he might have well provided against the rainy day. Sin could not have left him more worldly helpless than has righteousness, i the story the Chicago paper tells be true, and there is no reason to doubt it, since it is told with touching regret, and without indignant, silent and ashamed in the back | who land upon our borders? TRANSCONTINENTAL FREIGHT TRAF-FIC. The representatives of great trunk rail-Francisco upon one of the chief problems of the freight question-how to conduct business so as to induce the great volume of Asiatic freights to cross this continent from shore to shore. But the inquiry into means to be employed uniformily brings up the question of rates, and these, it is found, must be so low as to successfully compete with the transportation charges by the great sea routes. Such rates prevailing by transcontinental rail routes will reduce the tariffs to figures below the average cost of transportation. The question remaining to be determined s, will it pay to take the freights on that basis? Unquestionably the transporters will decide it in the affirmative, if indeed they have not already resolved upon it. And the reason for such a conclusion throws light upon the railroad transportation question, which has been so befogged and misrepresented by demagogues and a conscienceless press. The freight will be carried, for it will be pure economy to do so, because it will consume the surplus ransportation capacity of the carriers. This will inure to the benefit of all local freight traffic of the country. It is an axom that a large tonnage at a low rate pays better than a small tonnage at a high rate. Assure the carrier of the employment of his full carrying capacity and his rate declines. In other words, the fixed expenses relating to transportation are not proportioned to the amount of the freight carried. Whether it be great or small, the mass of fixed expense remains the same To illustrate: If a million tons cost X to transport, it does not follow that two million tons will cost 2 X, but rather the extra cost may be stated as 11 X. So 4,000,000 might represent the cost at 11 X and Francisco Ocano committed suicide at Los 8,000,000 at 2 X, and 16,000,000 at 3 X, and 000,000 at 31 X. Whenever the full activity of which a transporter is capable is employed the whole business with which ne treats is benefited, and so the transportaion of the Asiatic freight at even less than cost cannot but stimulate and advance the local traffic of the whole country.

in political circles, that Messrs. John F Miller, Horace F. Page, M. M. Estee, Geo C. Perkins and John F. Swift are to be can lidates for the United States Senate. They are all Republicans. THE New York Sun says: "The Demorats have never had Prohibitionists among hem. They have been in favor of free quor and plenty of it; but the Republicans have always counted among their numbers a great body of sincere advocates of temperance." It, therefore, concludes that Mr Blaine will be most hurt by the Prohibition vote. But the fact is that many a Democrat has become a Prohibitionist. Free whisky has made hosts of Democratic temperance nen. In this State when St. John was cominated the only town that fired a gur was the strongest Democratic town in the State. But no one is blind to the fact that the Democracy proposes to encourage the rohibition movement in the hope of defeating the only party where temperance entiments have had any standing. THE ELECTRIC RAILROAD.—The result of the East Cleveland Street Railroad Com pany, which recently completed a mile of oad and ran cars over it by electricity, was so successful that the company expect to change their entire system, comprising ver twenty miles, into electric railroads The system used was a combination of the Brush and Knight & Bently systems, and the current was carried on underground onductors, laid in conduits, like those of a cable road. The cars were started and stopped and reversed with the greatest ease and without the disagreeable jerking inci dent to the cable and horse roads. The economy of running is claimed to be greate than that of the cable roads, and the cos f construction less than one-third as great Any number of cars up to fifteen can be run at one time on a single circuit, and from one machine, which is a result not at tained by any of the European system

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

The Dive Nulsances. Great complaint has been made recently in a general way of the annoyances caused to citizens residing in the neighborhood of certain "dives" located on some of our principal thoroughfares. It is rumored that a large number of citizens who are offended by the loud noises, boisterous conduct and indecent jests and songs, are about to petition the Board of Trustees of the city to pass an order that all licenses shall be withheld from business of this character. There seems to be a plainer, speedier and more adequate remedy in the law itself, and that a complaint to the City or District Attorney, based upon Section 316 of the Penal Code, would be more effectual in abridging these nuisances. This section reads as follows: "Every person who keeps any disorderly house, or any house for the purposes of assignation of prostitution, or any house of public resort by which the peace, comfort or decency of the immediate neighborhood is habitually disturbed, or who keeps an inn in a disor-derly manner. * * * * is guilty of a misdemeanor.

It has been often decided by Courts and juries that any house kept in such a manner as to annoy or scandalize the public generally, or as a resort for thieves, drunkards, or other idle and vicious people, is a public nuisance. It is sufficient if the disorder be frequent and it in frequent, and it is not necessary that all persons residing near or passing it are annoyed. The acts must be such as tend to annoy good citizens. The license in these

The highest temperature recorded yesterday at various points were as follows: Sactivens, and which is known by his name. It is a massive piece of machinery, of great power and effectiveness, and before which, if its full force is applied, few water pipes of the city can stand. It was a day at various points were as follows: Sacramento, 100°; Rocklin, 104°; Truckee, 85°; Summit, 75°; Colfax, 100°; Red Bluff, system upon which the demand for service 106°; Marysville, 112°; Woodland, 109°; Was increasing, as it enables either the Cottonwood, 102°; Chico, 110°; Penryn, Stevens or the Holly to be used as relays 102°; but Orland took the whole bakery or reliefs in dependences, or conjointly, or reliefs in dependences. as need demands. Some especial friendship for the Holly pumps, however, There has been but fourteen days this season that the maximum thermometer recorded a temperature above 90°, and the people generally are growling about this heated term; but the following tabulated thave the chance, and if Holly can squirt farther and more of it than its rival, let Holly have cheers—but until such a battle of the pumps becomes a necessity, let them dwell together in unity and continue sucking in slickens and squirting out mud in joint fraternal effort. In the Bee of Saturday afternoon appeared this statement:

"Shortly after noon to-day the Stevens pump broke, and as the break is a had one hat we are getting along unusually well so far this season, as will be seen by the fol-sump broke, and as the break is a bad one, it cannot be repaired. In the meantime the supply furnished will probably be as great as before the damage, but there will not, perhaps, be as much pressure as was afforded when the Holly and Stevens pumps could both be used at the Water Works."

Waiving the consideration of the remark able and patentable statement that with less pressure there will be just as large supply as when there was greater pressure; it is simple justice to say that the quoted item is "a no such thing." There was no "bad break," no break that "cannot be repaired," and nothing happened that in any way affected the efficiency of the oump. An attachment of the pump, in tended to economize its running expense uffered from the breakage of a valve, the epair of which is a trivial matter attachment was disconnected and the pump went on as usual But of this the people had no information and when the fire alarm sounded Saturday ight there was much fear expressed of conflagration, on the supposition that only low-water pressure was obtainable. But he Stevens pump was in service as usua and the Fire Department had much nore water than was needed. The value of this supplemental pump September Septem topped, and for the first time in years he dust went on a spree in our streets in aidsummer. It is just as well to receive nformation from our contemporary of any kind regarding the city pumps with "allowance" for Holly lee-way.
